Gen. Walker Arrived. Gen. Wm. Walker, President of Nicaragua, srrived in this city yester lay afternoon. He was re ceived at the depot of the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad, and escorted to the City Hotel. A large number of our citizens having immediately collected in front of the Hotel, be addressed them briefly, but in an earnest and energetic manner; referring to his struggles to plant the standard of freedom in Central America, and the causes which caused his temporary defeat. After his speech he was called upon by many of his old friends who re- gentlemen officiate as clerks. member him kindsy, and have warmly sympathized in his patriotic labors in Nicaragua. He is looking in fine health.

The Fourth of July

siness houses of every kind were closed, and labor | tised suspended. Numbers of parties repaired to the shades of the country on pic nic excursions-the Shelby Guards went down the river, on a steamboat, accompanied by a goodly number of their friends, and, we learn, enjoyed themselves finely. The Switzers formed in procession on the Square, and with others, proceeded to Cockrili's Sping, where the Declaration of Independence was read by H. M. Fogg, Esq, and an Oration was pronounced by R. W. McGavock, Esq. Both of these gentlemen acquitted themselves in a most satisfactory manner; the oration of Mr. McG. was an able and eloquent production, peculiarly appropriate to the occasion. A splendid flag was presented by a young lady, on behalf of herself and others, to the Swiss Relief Society. The presentation and reception of this beautiful gift was one of the pleasantest and most agreeable incidents of the day. The festivities were prolonged by a ball, in which all participated, who felt an inclination to enjoy the mazy sport. Everything passed off pleasantly, and all returned to their homes much satisfied with the manner in which they had passed the day, and invoking for our country an indefinite number of returns of the birth-day of her independence.

For the Daily Patriot. MESSES. EDITORS :- In looking over your paper of the 4th inst., I find that I am requested by some of my friends to become a candidate for the office of County Court Clerk. In answer to which, I say I am under obligations for a tender of their support, and am a candidate for that office. Very respectfully, THOS. D. STOGNER.

July 6, 1857. First Annual Celebration of the Edge.

field Sunday School. Last Saturday, the 4th of July, was the occasion of this celebration. The school has been in operation a little more than a year, and numbers about one hundred pupils; those provided with an efficient corps of teachers. The whole superintended and controlled by our worthy fellow-citizen Dr.

The place selected for the celebration, was one peculiarly adapted to the purpose. It is situated | KER. n the centre of Blood's Addition to Edgefield, in the midst of a beautiful grove of trees, and on an elevated spot. The seats provided for the accommodation of the visitors were in a cool shade during the whole of the proceedings. There were present on the occasion, two other schools besides the Edgefield school: that of Hobson's Chapel, and that of Andrew Charge; and besides the members of the schools, there was quite a large number of persons present as spectators. Estimating the children and grown persons we think there were about one thousand persons present. About half-past 10 o'clock, the exercises of the day commenced by a prayer, suited to the occasion and the object of the meeting, by Dr. Hamilton, after which devotional exercise followed the speeches, halogues, &c , of the little girls and boys. We only regret that all the pupils did not speak loud enough to be heard by all present, for we were well pleased with the pieces we were able to understand, We cannot just here forbear to notice two striking peculiarities connected with this celebration. The first was that the director of the exercises was a beautiful little girl, we presume of about eight summers, the daughter of our friend Mr. H. Peach, of Edgefield. Alice is her name-who presided with a grace and dignity remarkable for one so young. The second, is the wonderful proficiency phy and American history. He is the son of Dr.

At the conclusion of the exercises of the school, the children were entertained in a very happy and instructive address by Rev. Dr. A. L. P. Green, after which dinner was announced, the sumptuous collation served up, and the audience again invited to the stand, when the Declaration of Independence, prefaced with appropriate introductory remarks, was read in a forcible, clear, carnest, and impressive manner, by Mr. A. F. Estes, which was succeeded by songs from the schools. Thereupon, Col. W. G. Brien was introduced by Dr. Herman, and addressed the audience in a speech, which for elegance and conciseness of diction, extent and acimagery, power and brilliancy of eloquence, was rally, at the LOWEST PRICES! [june25. pronounced by persons who could not be carried away by momentary excitement, and whose knowledge and experience rendered them in every degree capable of judging of the merits of an address, to have been a master piece of oratory-perfectly magnificent. The BIBLE was his appropriate theme and if it were possible for a living being to do justice to a subject so grand and exalted, Col. Brien certainly did it. We regret we have not time to notice it in extenso, for we unbesitatingly declare that for greatness and versatility of genius, he has but few, if any equal of his age, in the State. This was an appropriate conclusion of the exer-

Crooker's Millinery Establishment.

We doubt whether the fair dames and belies of Nashville have ever experienced so much difficulty in the selection of a bonnet, as this season, at this establishment. The cause is not to be found in the increased fastidiousness or captiousness of their tastes, nor in the paucity of the stock or inelegance of the styles. No; we must look for it in some other quarter. Their fancies, to tell the truth, have been bewildered by the great variety and beauty of the assortment to choose from. They experience such sensations while beholding it, as one feels in a rich conservatory surrounded by the rarest exotics, andlaved in their delicious perfumes. They have such emotions as led the poet to wish that the ips of all womankind, especially the beauties, were condensed into one pretty pouting pair that he might, in kissing them, kiss the whole race. Where there is so much elegance, so great a variety, a choice must be difficult. The thing's natural; and the dear creatures are not to blame. But not of bonnets alone does Crooker's congress consist. Nearly all descriptions of millinery goods are represented there-from the lightest and most etherial to the heavier fabrics which art produces to adorn the oveliest of nature's handiworks.

Interesting to Mechanics and Manufacturers-Third Annual Fair.

The Mechanics and Manufacturers of Tennessee and adjoining States, are reminded that the Third Annual Fair and Exhibition of the Mechanic's Institute of this State, will commence in October next in this city. The annually increasing interest manifested in these exhibitions, and visible advantages resulting to exhibitors, as well from the dissemination of important information among themselves, as from the great publicity which they are thus enabled to give their business, renders it certain that the approaching exhibition will eclipse in magnificence and interest all its predecessors.

Copies of Circulars, giving full particulars, can be obtained at the Mechanic's Institute rooms, College street, opposite the Sewance, or by addressing the President, WM. STOCKELL, or Secretary H. K. WAL-

The Tobacco Trade.

England derives an annual revenue from duties on tocco, of £4,500,000, or $22,500,000, and France 92,000,000 francs, or $19,000,000; total $41,500,000, being more than half the duties levied by the United States upon the whole aportation from both countries. From recent official eports to the State Department, we copy the following par-

Up to 1817 purchases of tobacco by France were made upon the offers of merchants submitted to the Director General, and communicated ty him to the Council of Administration. The number of competitors created embarrassment, and the present system was, after some years, dopted. The system is this: Proposals are published by he regie to make contracts for the supply of tobacco. Sam ales of the kinds and qualities are submitted to the inspecn of these who desire to contract, and they thereu bmit their offers to supply at certain prices within a time pecified. The samples submitted to the contractors are arefully preserved; and when the cargoes arrive at the rts, samples of them are forwarded to Paris and mpared with the model samples, and the acceptance of refusal depends upon this comp wison, It requires but little reflection to perceive that this system te to make, to suppose that, if tobacco were admi ato France as other products are admitted we should ex-ort ten times as much as we do at the present time. The lition of the system would therefore seem to be an of ct constantly to be kept in view by our govern is stood so many years, however, and under so many form f government, and is so productive to the revenues, and so apportant to the government itself, in the number of per-ons thus brought under I s direct influence, that we cannot pe to see it soon materially changed.

Tobacco is only permitted to be cultivated in six depart nents as a stape, and this cultivation is under the mos igid surgeillance of the government. In the other de tments agriculturalists are allowed to grow four plants or each tenement for medical uses. On the tobacco dis-losed of by the regie, whether imported or produced, the wrofit re-lized amounts to 447 per cent. The retail dealers in the article, numbering about 3,00°, are under the conol of the regie inspection, and are allowed a commission their sales of from 10 to 12 per cent. There are only en manufactories. They are located at Paris, Havre, Lill t asburg, Morlaix Tanneins, Lyons, Marseilles, Toulouse and by Jeaux. Each has its circle of departments to supply and restricted to transactions therein. The ma rticle is deposited in magazines, of which there is 35.7. In the departments adjoining Switzerland, Germany and Bel-ium, the price established is waitly below that which rules where frontier facilities are afforded for illicit import tio the rate is comparatively moderate. Where cone exist, is enormous. Thus, at Strasbourg a pound is worth only 1 sons (cents,) while at Orle ins it is worth eight francs ($1.6) Last year (1848) the receipts from the customs only amounted to about 146,900,000 francs, $6,000,000 of which were ed to about 146,000,000 frames, 85,000,000 of which were derived from tobocco, nearly all grown in the United States, under the workings of the regre. Were this regre abou-ished, and a moderate import duty substituted, instead of a market of 15,000 or 18, 0 hhds of tobacco per annum, ance would take from us double that quantity immediate At the present time we export about two-fifths of all the b cco consumed in Europe. Strict attention to its prope iture will enable us to furnish a much greater propertion From 1827 to 1836, our exports to France, amounted an-unally, on an average, to 5,727,900 pounds. For many years we have exported from three-fourths to four-fifths of ie tobacco consumed in France. From official reports of the French authorities, we gather the following statistics of ir exports and sales to the regie in the years specified : Pounds. Years, 11 643 710 1848 18,046,305 .13, 89, 36 1849 ...

The cost of Ameri can tobaccos, on delivery at the factories of the regis, all expense included, is given by a French legislative report as diows, on an average for several years: Maryland to bac o, 9 5 cents per lb; Virginia, 8.2 cents; Kentucky, 7.7 cts saouri, 7.5 cents. The net profits of the regie, which ifter paying all expenses of purchase, transportation, man facture, and sale of tobacco, it has paid over to the Stat casury, annually from the 1st of July, 1811, (commence regary, annuary rota in regie,) to the 1st of January 854, amount to $2,328,201,725.
